

Discussions in BrowardConnect

Discussion forums were widely used in Workplace and is back with some improved functionality. When on the new intranet homepage, you can choose from one of four forum categories: Faculty Zone, General Discussion, Marketplace and Retail & Service reviews. Alternatively, if you'd like to see all the most recent chats (from any forum) you can look at the list underneath (All Recent Discussions) and see what the hot topics are. You can even kick off a new discussion right from the homepage!

The screenshot displays the BrowardConnect Discussion Forums interface. At the top, there's a banner image of a tropical beach. Below it, a navigation bar includes buttons for 'VIEW ALL FORUMS' and 'CREATE POST'. The main content area is titled 'DISCUSSION FORUMS' and features four large blue buttons with icons representing the forum categories: 'Faculty Zone' (person at a board), 'General Discussion' (speech bubbles), 'Market Place' (shopping bag), and 'Retail & Service Reviews' (thumbs up). Below these, a section titled 'ALL RECENT DISCUSSIONS' includes a '+ new discussion' link. The first discussion is titled 'Looking for a good farmers market' with 4 replies and 2 likes. The second is 'Baby Crib for sale' with 1 reply and 0 likes. The right sidebar shows a weather widget for Fort Lauderdale (82°F, Mostly Cloudy) and a 'WORKDAY' button.

If you like a certain thread, you can choose to follow it and set notifications by clicking on the "..." near the original posters message. You can see little photos of other contributors. This is optional, set by each user. The blue/gray bars near people's names show the status of the users contributions. The more you answer questions and use the forums, the higher your bar gets.

Nice! I had forgotten about Batten's, thought they had closed. They are close by. The others sound good too. Thanks :)
